TO INSURE PRESSURE TRIBUTE FROM FRANCE

CITY IS INSTALLING 5000 FEET OF TWENTY-INC CAST IRON PIPE IN NORTHWEST SECTION

According to a resolution of the city council Monday night 5000 feet of 20-inch cast iron pipe has been ordered for the purpose of increasing the service of water in the northwest section. This pipe will be laid on Doran street from Glendale to Central avenue. "This," says Mr. H. B. Lynch, public service manager, will serve the purpose of a trunk line, to carry water to the northwest division of the city.

"That section has been without any service of these dimensions up till now and has always had more or less pressure trouble. This was due to the insufficiency of the trunk line which carried water to the northwest division. Every street north of Second street will be benefited.

"The city is also installing double stand hydrants at every block in this section. This will afford a protection not given heretofore.

"This 20-inch pipe is the largest pipe ever laid in this district. This pipe line will ultimately be extended to the Brand Pumping plant and will there be connected with the main from the wells. It will thus serve as a pumping as well as a pressure main. There will be nine double cast-iron hydrants along this line. The cast iron pipe used in making this much-needed improvement will cost approximately $14,000."

VOCATIONS CONNECTED WITH TRANSPORTATION

At the present time tens of thousands of men and women in the West are employed in work connected directly or indirectly with transportation, both on land and on sea. This vocation is only in its infancy in our part of the world. Doubtless many Glendale boys and girls will eventually seek positions in various branches of this great portion of the world's work.

Glendale is indeed fortunate, that through the efforts of Mr. R. D. White, she has secured a speaker in the person of R. F. Sawyer, assistant traffic manager of the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles, who by actual experience has familiarized himself with the details of the great transportation problems of the West. He will speak upon the subject, "Vocations Connected With Transportation," in the auditorium of the Intermediate school at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening, March 3. This talk is free to the general public. Parents are urged to accompany their children and to interest themselves in the opportunities open to the men and women of tomorrow. Teachers and High School students will be enabled to secure data not usually available.

This lecture is the second of a series of lectures to be given at the Intermediate school for the benefit of those who are choosing a vocation and planning preparation for it and also for those who wish to better their industrial or professional position. Further announcement of subjects and speakers will follow.

WOLVERINES PICNIC MARCH 11

"Michigan, My Michigan" will be remembered by 20,000 former residents of the old Wolverine state, at Sycamore grove, Los Angeles, Saturday, March 11, by the greatest all-day picnic ever held by Michiganders. A splendid program has been arranged. The celebrated Tuskegee singers of Alabama will furnish a splendid program of old-time melodies and readings. Bring your lunch and cups—the committee will do the rest. Further information can be obtained from T. L. O'Brien, Secretary, 634 Kip street, phone Bdy 3173; 55191.

PRESBYTERIAN BIBLE CAMPAIGN

Every Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock, Dr. J. R. Pratt of Pasadena, one of the foremost, practical Bible teachers in the country, will teach "The People's Class" in the First Presbyterian church of Glendale. The epistle of Paul to the Romans will be the subject of the lectures. Further arrangements have been made for a class in the study of "The Second Coming of Christ." This class will be taught by the Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Kindred topics will also be discussed. Mr. Edmonds has been a prominent teacher of this subject for 20 years. All who are interested are invited. Mr. Edmonds will also teach an Instructions class Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15. This class will take up practical studies which boys and girls enjoy. All are invited.

GRATEFUL RECIPIENT OF CLOTHING SENDS LETTER TO MISS ROSALIA ENGLAND

Everywhere the ladies of Southern California are working to relieve the terrible distress caused in Europe by the war. American ladies with Allied nation affiliations recently sent a large consignment of clothing of all sorts to France, where so many women and children are homeless and ill-clad, having lost all they had in the destruction of the cities on the western frontier.

Among those who helped with this work was Miss Rosalie England, of La Ramada. Miss England sent, among other articles, a lady's coat, and, actuated by warm human interest in the sufferers, pinned a letter in one of the sleeves asking that whoever should receive the coat should write to her.

In answer to her request she received a letter the other day from a French lady who received the coat as her allotment of the goods sent on the relief ship.

Following is a translation of the letter:

Dear Mademoiselle England: Having found in the sleeve of a coat which was given me by one of the Sisters a card with your address, I wish to thank you for your good wishes and for the present which you have in your generosity sent for the victims of the war.

Alas, we ourselves, in Arny-les-Rheims, at the approach of the enemy abandoned all we possessed. My husband is dead and I remain alone with my three little girls and my mother-in-law, who also joins me in thanking you for the gift that has been so welcome and has rendered me such service.

Accept, mademoiselle, my gratitude and my best sentiments.

VVE. J. MASSON,
St. Etienne, Loire, France.

CARL ANDERSON IS MENDING

Carl Anderson, who suffered the amputation of his left leg just above the knee, at the Clara Barton hospital, Los Angeles, the other day, is making a good recovery. Carl was attending Occidental college before his accident and he hopes to be able to take up his studies when his leg heals. "It is possible these days," Carl says, "to get an artificial limb that will be quite useful and hardly noticeable."

FIND TOOLS IN WELL

The tools that were lost in the well on the Brand pumping site the other day have been found. The fishing job was not so formidable as such jobs are. In wells 1000 to 4000 feet deep the fishing jobs sometimes last months. The casing was pulled, in this instance, and the tools were easily located and pulled up. The 16-inch casing has now been put back and drilling has been resumed. The wells when completed will be a great addition to the city's water supply. They will make it possible for the city to have water all through the summer in that abundance that is often difficult to obtain.

EXPOSITION LEAP YEAR RULES

A set of rules has been suggested to the San Diego Exposition as fit to govern the activities in the new Court of Leap Year. The young woman who offered them has a keen sense of humor and if for no other reason Exposition officials may consider adopting them. The suggested rules follow:

1. The Court is strictly for business. Remember there are others waiting. Get it off your chest and move on to any one of the adjoining shady paths for the hand-holding stage.
2. Don't be bashful. Remember the poor boob would probably do the same to you but is scared.
3. If your man attempts to flee, call a guard. None must escape.
4. Proposing to the same man twice in one day is forbidden. If any can resist the first time he does not deserve a second trial.
5. No flirting with some one else's prospect.
6. Every dance a ladies' choice.
7. If partner insists upon "leading" you in dancing, you may leave him.
8. Honeymooners welcome. Special shady paths with arbored benches for their exclusive use.
9. Class A, includes girls under 18; Class B, between 18 and 24; Class C, over 24; old maids over 90 referred to the citrus grove across the street.

LOS ANGELES MURDERERS TO BE HANGED

GOV. JOHNSON REFUSES STAY OF EXECUTION TO MEN WHO KILLED MILLIONAIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
SACRAMENTO, March 2.—Governor Johnson today refused to grant a stay of execution to Glenn Witt and Charles Oxnam, the two young men who entered the home of the millionaire, William Alexander, in Los Angeles some months ago, and when interrupted by the owner as they were robbing the house, shot and killed him.

DOWAGER QUEEN OF ROUMANIA DYING

"CARMEN SYLVA," FORMER POPULAR SOVEREIGN OF BALKAN STATE DANGEROUSLY ILL IN BERLIN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BERLIN, March 2.—Attended by six physicians of the first rank, whose skill is unavailing to save her life, the Dowager-Queen of Roumania is dying in this city. The physicians announced today that they were compelled to abandon all hope. The Dowager Queen was always better known to the public of her own country and of Europe by the name of "Carmen Sylva," the nom-de-plume under which she wrote. She was a poetess of no mean standing and her Roumanian lyrics are sung in every peasant hut of that principality. She was beloved by all who knew her and was idolized by the people to whom she showed many kindnesses. She was attacked by acute bronchitis a few weeks ago and has gradually been growing weaker.

WILSON WANTS IMMEDIATE VOTE ON LINERS

PRESIDENT THROUGH SENATOR STONE ASKS CONGRESS TO DECIDE AT ONCE FATE OF GORE RESOLUTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Senator Stone today asked an immediate vote on the Gore resolution which warns Americans not to sail on armed liners. President Wilson is acting through Senator Stone and is awaiting the action of Congress. He has intimated also that he does not intend to attempt to influence Congress one way or the other as far as the resolution is concerned.

NO FURTHER FIGHTING NEAR VERDUN

BOTH FRENCH AND GERMANS ARE RESTING AFTER THE GREAT BATTLE ROUND THE FORTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, March 2.—All is quiet around Verdun today. The French still hold 2000 Brandenburgers cooped up in the ruins of Fort Douaumont, where they will probably be forced to surrender. The crack brigade of the Prussian army was cut to pieces and the remnant is being starved out in the battered craters of the old fort. Along the Champagne district the German artillery is active. The French deny that the Germans captured Fresnes and also deny that they evacuated the fortress of De Vaux. The crown prince has been summoned to Berlin, where the kaiser is now resting after the anxieties of the German repulse.

RANCH HAND MURDERS WHOLE FAMILY

LOUIS FORTINE CONFESSES TO KILLING OF FURRER FAMILY AT OXNARD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
OXNARD, March 2.—Peter Furrer, Mrs. Furrer and their baby were murdered today and their house burned. The bodies were found in the ruins. Suspicion fell on a ranch hand, Louis Fortine. He was arrested and after examination Fortine confessed that he was guilty of the murder. He stated that he had forged a check for $250 in Furrer's name and that, in order to conceal the crime he murdered the Furrer family and set fire to the house.

GERMANY GIVES PORTUGAL A CHANCE

TEUTONS WILL NOT DECLARE WAR ON PORTUGUESE REPUBLIC IF CONFISCATED VESSELS ARE GIVEN UP

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
AMSTERDAM, March 2.—Advices from Berlin stated that Germany had intimated to Portugal that that country had one chance yet to avoid war—by giving up its intention to confiscate the interned German vessels. Since Portugal seized the vessels there has been quite a panic among the German merchants in Lisbon and other ports. Two hundred German merchants fled today from Portugal to Spain.

ESHELMAN BURIED WITH MASONIC RITES

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—Lieut.-Gov. Eshelman's funeral services were held this afternoon at the Scottish Rite cathedral. Governor Johnson delivered the eulogy. He closed by saying, "Goodbye Jack, we will not see your like again for a generation!" Forty patrolmen and 12 soldiers escorted the hearse to Inglewood cemetery.

MONEY FOR SHOW

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR FLOWER SHOW ARE COMING IN UNSOLICITED

That the efforts of the Glendale Garden Society are meeting with success is evidenced by the amount of cheques beginning to flow in towards expenses of the Free Flower Show, to be held April 20, 21 and 22. The city trustees of Glendale have appropriated $100 towards the Flower and Vegetable Show. Messrs. Howard & Smith of Los Angeles have sent a large cheque. J. H. Woods of 1222 Milford has promised $10. The Pacific Electric Railway have agreed to advertise the Show on a large scale and to bear the entire expenses of this advertising.

Cheques have also been received from S. S. Elliott of Glendale, J. C. Beldin of Glendale and Mrs. Harriet Wells, formerly of Glendale but now of Baldwin, Florida.

Mrs. Wells writes the following letter:

My Dear Mrs. Woods:
Your letter of January 25 relative to the Glendale Garden Society and proposed Free Flower Show, enclosing circular concerning the same received, and I wish to congratulate you and your co-workers upon this very laudable scheme, too broad in scope of good effects to enlarge upon in this brief space. However, I wish to tangibly show my interest in the undertaking, and am enclosing my cheque and hope that everyone else is coming forward. The Boys' Potato club movement is excellent, and when you want a lot or two, I will be glad for you to use mine. May success crown your enthusiastic efforts.

Yours very truly,
LILLIAN S. WELLS,
Baldwin, Florida.

These cheques have come unsolicited; all thanks and honor to the cheerful givers. No campaign for funds has as yet been inaugurated; but as soon as the schedule of exhibits is off the press, the Financial Committee will begin operations. No local firms will be solicited; but every opportunity will be given them through the local press to contribute if they so desire to an enterprise which is planned wholly and solely for the good of Glendale, for the inspiration of its citizens, for the advertisement of our beautiful city, and for the benefit of the community at large.

The Free Flower and Vegetable Show will be held, so far as is now arranged, on the N. W. corner of 5th and Brand, the owner having generously donated the use of his property for this purpose. After this week copies of the schedule of exhibits can be obtained from Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway, from all the local schools, from Messrs. Kelley & McElroy, from the City Hall and the Chamber of Commerce, from the offices of the Glendale Evening News and the Glendale Press or from any of the 100 members of the Garden Society. Copies will be mailed from Headquarters on request, on receipt of stamp.

Among the latest recruits to the Garden Society are Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Enoch. Dr. Enoch practised for many years in Kansas, and more recently spent four active years in Santa Ana. He has travelled the length and breadth of this coast, and declares that Glendale is the most beautiful, salubrious and most congenial home town he has struck. Indeed, he declares, it is a perfect Paradise, and he hopes to make this his permanent home. Other recent additions to our membership are Mrs. G. Bleck, 1318 Milford street, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, 7th street, Mrs. H. A. Bartlett of 1st and Brand and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, 245 Maryland. So we go marching on.—NANNO WOODS, President.

WHO WANTS DEWBERRY PLANTS?

Mrs. J. W. Durham of 1679 W. Seventh street, Glendale, offers through the Glendale Garden society hardy young plants of dewberries. These plants are in nice condition for present transplanting, and the weather is favorable. Any member of the Garden society, or anyone desiring to become a member, may call at Mrs. Durham's residence, or phone her, Glendale 840-J, or call at headquarters of the Garden society, 1111 W. Broadway, and make arrangements to secure a limited number of these plants. Mrs. Durham says they should be planted about 12 inches apart. Arrangements to secure some of these plants should be made this week, as Mrs. Durham wishes to use her ground and so must get rid of these extra plants.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday; westerly winds.

TO OPEN "BOOKERY"

A. M. RICHARDSON ESTABLISHES CIRCULATING LIBRARY AND ART STORE ON BROADWAY

"The Bookery" is the name of a new store that is to be opened in the store next to Roberts & Echols drug store on Broadway. The old store has been completely renovated and fitted up in a highly artistic manner. The shelving and cases have been constructed and the whole fittings designed and installed by Mr. Caldwell, who fitted up Christopher's famous store in Los Angeles. When opened the new store will be a great credit to the city of Glendale.

Mr. A. M. Richardson, manager of "The Bookery" has had a long experience in this line of business. For twenty-three years he ran a business of this nature in Worcester, Mass. He came to the Pacific coast to enjoy the fine climate and also because he believed that there was opportunity here.

"I was greatly impressed with the possibilities of Glendale," said Mr. Richardson, "the very first time I visited it. However, I went all over Southern California in search of a suitable place for a business of this kind but I found none that seemed to me to be as good as Glendale. I am confident that there is a great future before this city. Its constant growth; its admirable natural situation and its central situation all promise great things for the days to come.

"There is a great boom coming to this section of the country also. The revival of business is noticeable even now; but it will be much greater before a year is past, and Glendale will experience a great stimulation. This is an educational city and contains a large body of people with literary taste.

"These people should be ready to patronize a store of this kind where they can obtain the loan of the latest books for a nominal sum. I feel sure that that branch of this business will be a success. I will also sell music, objects of art, perfumery and goods for the toilet table. There is room for a general business of this nature here.

"Mr. A. E. Dodds, the well-known jeweler, has rented a section of the store, where he will conduct his business. This will, as you see, not interfere in any way with my business. I anticipate ultimately building up a very successful business here."

WORLD TO TOAST PEACE

The world has been invited to toast peace at the Panama California International Exposition at noon of March 18, Dedication Day of the 1916 Exposition. The following request has been sent by President G. A. Davidson of the Exposition to prominent men and organizations in all parts of the world:

S. possessions, Western states and California counties are joining in San Diego to promote every fruit of civilization that is being destroyed in the other hemisphere. At noon of March 18, in the name of the directors of the 1916 International Exposition, I ask that you join in a toast that our Exposition fulfill the highest obligations that can devolve on a people's Exposition of progress.

"G. A. DAVIDSON, President."

NET CONTENT OF CONTAINER LAW

Congress recently enacted a law which is a very great aid in the buying of foodstuffs in package form. This law is an amendment of the pure food act, and is popularly known as the "net-weight amendment." It requires that food stuffs in package form must bear a statement showing the net amount of commodity actually contained in the package. Up to this time, in purchasing food commodities in the original package, the housewife has usually been limited to comparisons of quality and apparent price, which is of course the price per package.

In comparing two brands of food in packages of equal size these comparisons were trustworthy. When there was a difference in the size of the package, however, economy in buying could not be obtained from a knowledge of those two factors alone. There might be a large difference in the price per unit of quantity which would outweigh an apparent difference in price per package, or slight difference in the quality; but with the quantity labeled upon each package the purchaser has all the essential facts at hand.

Thus it is possible to compare two brands of package goods. Two packages of raisins sell for 10 cents and 12 cents a package respectively. The purchaser might consider that the 12-cent package was worth 2 cents, or 20 per cent, more than the 10-cent brand was worth; but upon examination of the labels, if it appeared that the former contained 16 ounces and the latter only 12 ounces he might conclude that the difference in price outweighed the advantages conceded for the higher priced package.

It is the same with crackers. Bought by weight in bulk and bought in the package there is a vast difference in price. Other articles, such as tea, is usually much cheaper in bulk than in package. The price is frequently less and the quantity obtained more. In many package teas one is paying for a name and fancy wrapping what ought to go into the tea itself.

Careful purchasers are advised to examine the labels on the packages, observe the net contents and thus determine the price per unit weight. Careful housewives will appreciate this advice.

BRITISH PLANS FOR ECONOMY

What the war in Europe means is being brought home very clearly to certain classes in the British Isles, who might otherwise not have found very much difference through the existence of the campaign. The British government first began by curtailing the hours during which saloons might be open. This law has now the effect of sending the citizens home at reasonable hours and also of lessening their expenditures. Above all they get off the streets and out of the city proper and into the suburbs, where there is less danger of loss of life from any bombarding by Zeppelins.

In the second place the British government has absolutely prohibited the importation of tobacco in the British isles during the war. This does not mean that the British government has adopted any anti-smoking policy but that the authorities do not intend to have money paid out for tobacco just at present, when that tobacco will be stored and not used. The British authorities do not intend to have any money tied up uselessly when it could be made to circulate and specially do not intend to have the gold of the country sent out of the country to liquidate debts incurred for luxuries or things that are not necessities.

Tobacco users in the islands were at first alarmed at the supposed prospect of having no supply of their favorite solace; but that alarm was speedily allayed when it was understood that there is a two-years' supply in the country. In like manner the newspapers and all firms that use paper are beginning to look to ways and means. The stoppage of the importation of wood pulp and manufactured paper from Norway and other lands to a certain extent, is likely to result in a paper famine in the British isles. This has already taught the newspaper owners and publishers that they must cut down their editions and spare paper. A stiff increase in prices of both tobacco and paper may be expected and also a further interference of the government to regulate prices.

The present war has given rise to more paternalism of government than could have been effected in a decade by ordinary agitation or development. It is likely that the British government will exercise its authority in many ways that would have been met with a howl of "socialism" some time ago; but which now are accepted as quite natural because the government has decreed them.

One thing is likely to be effected by the order restricting the entry of manufactured paper—the cutting down of the enormous issues of cheap books and the utmost economy in the use of paper of all kinds. When one reflects on the lavish manner in which paper is handled everywhere and how readily a sheet of paper with a single wrong letter on it is thrown into the wastebasket it can be seen that there is here a vast field for economy. Paper will henceforward in Britain be used on the other side when one side has effected its service and people may go back to the custom of their grandmothers, who, when paper was dear, used to "cross their letters." The custom was very trying to the eyes and to the patience of the readers but it was a saving.

Building materials are to be prohibited to a certain extent from entry into the British islands. This will work a great hardship to the poor in the price of firewood, which is usually sold from the odds and ends of building material. It will also result in the dovetailing of flooring ends and the saving of lumber wherever such saving can be effected.

In fact, in every department of life the effect of the enforced economies is to be felt; for the British government is determined that gold shall be retained in the land and that the exchange value of the British pound shall not be reduced. It is likely also that these enforced economies may become habits and that there will be more thrift in Britain in the days to come than there has been in the past.

TROPICO

Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Eshelman of Blanche avenue have returned from a week's sojourn at Hermosa Beach. Wednesday evening Rev. Eshelman addressed a large and interested audience on the "Coming of Christ."

A citizen of Tropic, who has great faith in the wonderful future of Oatman as a mining center of that section of Arizona, gives excerpts from a most interesting letter received from a prominent editor, as well as mining man, of Denver, Colorado, who but recently visited Oatman.

"Dear Friend:—I have just returned from a trip to Oatman, following a visit in Los Angeles. I went into Oatman from Needles, going in by auto stage, coming out by stage to Kingman. It was raining all the time and had been for a couple of days previous. You may imagine what it was like, paddling up and down the gulch, the one street of Oatman, in the mud, with no sidewalks.

"However, it is a live place, I may say a booming place, and will surely make a good camp where many fortunes are to be made. It is not an experiment, altogether. There are two big mines with their own mills in operation, employing about 600 men total, and have been producing ore about twelve years. About 100 new companies have been organized to develop prospects and many of them are working right along. It is not a poor man's camp, as the ore is found at depths ranging from 400 to 600 feet and the cost to sink a shaft is $50,000 to $60,000. It is necessary to have a mill to treat the ore at the mine, owing to the low grade.

"The town itself is booming. New buildings and shacks are going up on every hand every day. Hundreds are occupying tents. It is often a problem to get a cot, even. There are several quite good restaurants and prices are reasonable. New businesses are going in every day. Three banks started the week before I arrived, making four in all. Tents and flimsy shacks are giving way to better structures; in a few instances quite substantial buildings are going up. There's no sickness, no pneumonia. The water is good (supplied by one of the mines). I think the opportunities to go into business, also to trade a little in mining claims and stocks, as a side issue, are good, but I cannot suggest what one might engage in. The proper plan would be to go there and watch for the right opportunity to present itself, just as I imagine hundreds are already doing. There will surely be a number of additional new mines opened up there, and in any event the camp will be boomed for all it is worth in the immediate near future. You will find people there who have been in every mining excitement in the western country during the past forty years.

"The camp or district is strung along the gulch for a distance of about seven miles, with Oatman (at the Tom Reed mine) as the center. Goldwads is about four miles north and has an old producer, bearing the same name. Oldtrails is three miles south and the distance between is about all closed up with houses, shacks and tents. But Oatman is the business center for the district and I believe always will be. . . . I met many old acquaintances from Colorado. Shrewd people have their own autos and get all over those hills in them. There is estimated to be 200 machines there. Ten or more auto stages run from both Needles and Kingman and the freighting is largely done by auto trucks, although there are a number of 12-mule team outfits. The fare from Needles is $2.50 each way; $4.00 to Kingman. From Needles you cross the Colorado river in canoes, twenty-five cents. A flat ferry takes autos across for $5.00"

Henry Harrison Brown, an eminent lecturer, gave an Emerson lecture, under the auspices of the First church of New Thought, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Carmack, on North Central avenue, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Allen E. Boyce is arranging to entertain with a card party at her home on South Brand boulevard, Friday evening, March 17. The party, which will be attended by society folks of Los Angeles, Glendale and Tropic, will be given for the benefit of the Tropic Thursday club.

GLENDAL, FOOTHILLS

The Strugglers' club will be organized Thursday evening in the Indian room of the Casa Verdugo Restaurant. The object of the club is to encourage and develop local talent in song writing, scenario writing, dancing and acting, and will be composed of local people and no doubt will be prosperous and ultimately profitable. The club has the backing of some of the best people of North Glendale.

Quite an interesting program has been arranged for their initial meeting tomorrow night, consisting of several musical numbers, composed and rendered by local talent, Spanish dances, etc., by local talent. Among the musical numbers will be "El Camino Real" and "Southern California," words by Phil Phelton and music by Miss Jessie Alston, both local people.

Mr. Campbell and wife of the Keystone company and Harry Williams, author of "Tipperary" and "The Old Apple Tree," will be the guest of honor at tomorrow night's entertainment.

Mrs. J. B. Wilson of 1020 Stocker street has sold her property to a Mr. Bogg of Los Angeles. Mr. Bogg is having the buildings remodeled and quite a large addition is being built to the dwelling, which will be a very pretty place when completed.

The people of North Glendale seem to take a great deal of interest in the farming of vacant lots, almost every vacant lot is planted or plowed ready for seeding. This shows a marked improvement in the way of taking care of vacant property and will not only add much to the looks of the community but will also prove profitable to the caretaker.

George Bradenberg of Burchett and Central had the misfortune to be kicked by a vicious horse the other day. His breastbone was broken and he was injured internally. He is getting along nicely at present but will be unable to be out for several weeks.

Considerable activity is visible among the citrus ranches around Kenneth road. Lemons are being picked and other necessary work accomplished. James Connors, who has a large lemon orchard, is picking the fruit. The crop is sold to the

NINETEENTH BIRTHDAY

Jacob H. Shugart of 224 Belmont avenue, celebrated his 19th birthday Tuesday, Feb. 29. Mr. Shugart was born in the year 1840, in Pennsylvania. He is 76 years of age. A veteran of the Civil war Mr. Shugart has a number of friends among the old soldiers of this city. He has also been a member of the Masonic order for more than 40 years. He was in Shenandoah, Iowa, for 20 years and has numerous friends in that section. He also resided in Omaha. From all these places and many others friendly reminders and presents were sent him on his birthday. His old-soldier and Masonic friends were invited to celebrate his birthday, Feb. 29, along with a few other friends and neighbors.

One of the features of the celebration was the arrival of a birthday cake with 19 candles, decorated appropriately. This came from Mrs. Braden of Omaha, an old family friend. The old soldier was greatly pleased with this attention. He was also delighted with seeing his friends in his home.

Mr. Shugart came to California three years ago on the suggestion of his sons, who live in Los Angeles. His health had been failing for some time and it was thought that the climate of California would revive him. The change at first seemed to do him a great deal of good; but within the past few months he has been failing and on his birthday was quite weak. His friends seemed to cheer him up for a little and he was greatly pleased with the attentions showed him from all quarters.

IN THE PHILIPPINES

So far I have discussed the benefits (political, commercial, military and naval) which will accrue to the United States through the retention of the Philippines. It is well that we look out for ourselves. I most heartily approve of such a policy, but I sincerely believe that we, a justice loving people, also wish to see how the welfare of the Filipinos will be affected. To tell the truth, they are the ones who will be benefited or injured the most by the independence. Whether independence or retention will be more beneficial to the Filipino is a question, the decision of which must be based upon the capability or incapability of the Filipino intellectually, economically and politically. If they are capable, perhaps independence might be all right from their standpoint. However, if they are not capable, their welfare will best be secured through our retention of them.

The decision is simple, the latter case represents actual conditions. A few authors and political aspirants, who never have been outside the borders of their home state but nevertheless think they are familiar with conditions existing in the Philippines speak of the Filipinos as an educated people. This shows their ignorance.
Frederick Chamberlain, a man very prominent in Filipino affairs, a man who has spent a good many years of his life in the Philippines expending
his efforts in aiding the Filipinos, says: "The educated class compose only 10% of the population at present." An editorial in the World's Work for January, 1914, makes a statement to the effect that the Filipinos are half civilized and 60% illiterate. These figures are considered quite accurate. This lack of intellectual development is due to the makeup of the Filipinos themselves.
Leading educators, who have made it their life's work to educate the Filipinos agree as to the nature of that people. They characterize or describe them as a quiet, easily educated, highly imitative and sensitive people. If well led they show marked loyalty to persons rather than causes; they are not treacherous. The most striking thing about them is found in their education. In subjects requiring memorizing they are very easily educated, but in subjects calling for reasoning and deep thought they fail utterly; or in plain English, the Filipinos are lacking in that most desirable quality—initiative. Heredity and past environment are responsible for this. As A. C. Coolidge of Harvard university puts it, "The Filipinos belong to a race which has never shown any capacity for independent civilization and which cannot reasonably be expected to do so at any time that can now be foreseen. But under wise American domination they will enjoy such benefits as they never dreamed of before." Some people have the mistaken idea that the Japs and the Filipinos are about the same. This is not the case, for the Philippines and Japan are in climatic zones of a very different nature. The Philippines have a tropical climate,
while Japan's climate is temperate.
This difference in climate practically accounts for the energy and initiative displayed by the Japanese. When speaking of the lack of initiative in the Filipinos, this pertinent question is often asked: "How is it that Manuel Quezon, who represents the Philippines in Washington, Aguinaldo,
the famous leader of the rebellion,
Antonio Luna, Rizal and other prominent Filipinos possess energy and initiative?" This may be answered in two ways: First, these few Filipinos are exceptions, comparable to exceptions found amongst the negro race;
second, those named and most all of the prominent people in the Philippines are not Filipinos, but mestizos, of mixed blood. Former Governor General Wright went so far as to say that there was not a single family of prominent, dominant Filipinos who did not have Chinese blood. Science explains that a slight strain of Chinese blood means a more progressive and capable people. However, the mestizos form such a small, insignificant percentage of the ten million population that they cannot in any way be considered representative of the true Filipinos.

There is no doubt about it, the Filipinos lack initiative. It stands out most prominently when we see how dependent they are economically. Chinese and Japanese merchants carry on most of the trade. Transportation, merchandizing and manufacturing are not developed; and the only accountable reason is that lack of initiative. I might relate an incident which illustrates this clearly. Not long ago some Americans established a match factory in the Islands; the first match factory ever established. Matches are in great demand and the match factory made good money. The native Filipino noticed this immediately and wanted that match factory; they even tried to get a law which would force the sale. However, they did not succeed in this.
The one match factory can supply only a fraction of the demand, yet there has never been a second factory established. Such things show that the Philippine nation is economically dependent. It absolutely needs the support we are giving it. Should independence be given to a country so dependent immediate ruin would surely result.
